CM launches Kaushalya Karnataka Scheme in Bengaluru

Unemployed youths' enrollment begins in city

Mysuru/Bengaluru, May 15 (MTY&NNN)- The ambitious programme of creating one lakh jobs by reaching out to unemployed youths under the "Demand Survey and Enrollment of Unemployed Youth," as part of Kaushalya Karnataka Scheme, was launched by Chief Minister Siddharamaiah in Bengaluru and all districts in the State, including Mysuru, here this morning.

Brand ambassador and actor Puneeth Rajkumar, Karnataka Skill Development Corporation (KSDC) Chairman Muralidhar Halappa and Speaker K.B. Koliwad were present at the inauguration in Bengaluru.

Meanwhile, MLA Vasu inaugurating the programme at the Platinum Jubilee auditorium in JK Grounds here said that this is a programme, which will help youth in the age group of 18-30 to enroll for jobs depending on their required skill sets.

MLA Vasu (sitting next to a lady) inaugurates the "Demand Survey and Enrollment of Unemployed Youth" as part of Kaushalya Karnataka in city this morning as Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep displays the registration message on the mobile phone

A massive job fair will be organised after Kannada Rajyotsava and Dasara celebrations. However, the aim of the youths should not only be to seek jobs but also to become entrepreneurs and create jobs, he said.

The aim of such camps is to create awareness among the unemployed youths to acquire skill sets depending upon their qualification and skills as they do not have any idea or direction in how to go about applying for jobs, said Vasu.

The first Prime Minister of the country Jawaharlal Nehru, as part of Five Year Plans, had set up public sector companies like HMT, HAL, BEL, thus creating jobs in the initial years after independence. Many doctors and engineers from Karnataka have been in great demand in the US and other foreign countries.

Mad rush for PU admission applications

Mysuru, May 15 (RK,PM, VNS)- With the SSLC results announced on Friday last (May 12), the Pre-University Colleges across the city have been witnessing mad rush for applications. Parents and their wards have been thronging popular colleges across the city to get their hands on the applications. However, with the SSLC results being low compared to previous year, the applications are available easily.

The colleges, which are charging Rs. 25 per application, have made sure to provide it to as many as possible. There were also reports that a few colleges were charging more than the prescribed amount (ranging from Rs. 50 to Rs. 200) for the forms.

Students were seen standing in queue along with their parents at Marimallappa PU College, Sadvidya PU College, SVEI Composite PU College, Vijaya Vittala Composite PU College, Sri Jaychamarajendra PU College, Taralabalu Education Centre, MMK and SDM Girls PU College, Sri Viveka Vidyalaya PU College, Vidyavardhaka PU College, St. Philomena's PU College, Seshadripuram Independent PU College and other colleges in city.

Some of the students, who had taken a decision to join a particular college, were seen discussing with their parents and friends. The students have also done their own research on the best colleges for various courses according to which they are seeking admission. While the demand is more for Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Biology (PCMB) combination in Science, the least is for PCME (Electronics) combination.

Students have also preferred to study Commerce as many aim to become Chartered Accounts (CA) or enter Public Service through UPSC or KPSC. However, the admission list at the PU colleges is expected to be announced after May 25.

The colleges will also have to make provision for admission to those who clear the supplementary examinations to be held from June 15. Meanwhile, the admission process for various High Schools across the city have also started.

Daily dole from dailies

Doling out money to the needy struggling in dire circumstances and food to the hungry with no means of assuaging hunger, invariably as charity, is a time-honoured practice in the land, but a tradition that is on the wane. The slogan "There is no free lunch out there," common in the western countries, dominated by materialistic and self-serving attitude, has apparently driven the practice of charity out of contention, except where one reads in the dailies about good-natured members of society and organisations, few and far between that they are, doling out help in cash and kind to their unfortunate fellow citizens in the land. Of course, such reports, almost always, get space only in the inside pages of dailies of all hues. However, in case the dole is from the government of the day, that act is bestowed wide publicity in public domain, for reasons everyone knows.

The line dividing news and reports in the dailies, that should normally be bold and clear, is tending to get thinner by the day. Thanks to the utterly morphed outlook to life nowadays on the part of people at large, marked by intolerance and avarice, their all-too-familiar despicable acts, Police including them under the category of crime, dailies report them as news. That is the daily dole that we are familiar with.

All one has to do to get a broad yet clear picture of what is engaging more people to fall into the law-keeper's net on a scale like never before is to give a speed-reading as it were of what appears in print, whichever daily one is patronising. To bring home the point, one has to reproduce a few headlines taken from just one issue of one of the widely circulated broadsheets on a day last week (some on the front page and others on inside pages of the daily). "In a first, Supreme Court orders 6-month jail term for Justice Karnan," "Manual Scavenger hired to clean septic tank electrocuted," "FSSAI turns heat on junk food," "Student ends life fearing PU results," "Farmer leader booked for damaging school property," and so on, never to ignore the daily dole of news originating to rape, chain-snatching, fatal road mishaps, highway robberies, murder for gain as well as settling scores, fraudulent acts of well-marked individuals in society, everyone knows who.

Carrying matter such as vainglorious and uncalled for disclosure by some individuals in public life about their non-belief in God may tickle the readers of dailies at large. That also passes off as news. How about not allowing free and fast movement of ambulances on the roads of Bengaluru for facilitating motorcades of Ministers? That is also part of the daily dole from the dailies.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Antony's request: Former Defence Minister and senior Congress leader A.K. Antony is a soft-spoken man. As Defence Minister during the first and second terms of the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) governments, Antony was often ridiculed by the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) leadership for not allowing the Army to retaliate against Pakistan for mutilating bodies of Indian soldiers. But on Tuesday as another incident of Indian soldiers being mutilated hit the headlines, Antony pointed out that only one incident of mutilation had happened during his eight-year stint as Defence Minister, while the last three years have witnessed three such incidents. "My only request to the government is give freedom to the Army to take appropriate action at an appropriate time," he said.* —In Business Standard

Controlling husband over card reader

Beijing: The photo above may not seem very interesting at first glance, but the story behind it definitely is. That little round gadget is apparently a card scanner installed by a Chinese wife to make sure that her husband doesn't come home later than 9 pm.

The piece of paper by the card reader lays out the rules of the household. If the husband comes home by 9 pm, he is rewarded with a warm dinner in the company of his wife, without having to do the dishes. But if he comes up to 30 minutes than the agreed hour, he is fined with 100 yuan ($15), and if he's more than 30 minutes late, he has to put in a whole day of house chores in the weekend.

"Pilgrimage by proxy"

Lisbon: If you're too sick, too busy or just too lazy to embark on a pilgrimage to the holy shrine of Fatima, in Portugal, you can just hire Carlos Gil to do it for you. The 52-year-old real-estate agent charges €2,500 ($2,700) for every 100-mile journey he takes on foot in the name of someone else.

Carlos Gil started offering the unusual service, which has been referred to as "pilgrimage by proxy," 16 years ago, when he got this "crazy idea" of reviving a 700-year-old tradition. In the Middle Ages, wealthy noblemen who were to sick or too busy to go on pilgrimage themselves would hire others to do it for them. The practice is virtually unknown to most people, as the Catholic Church frowns upon renting someone to visit a holy place in your name. Gil believes he is the only person offering the service in Portugal, and one of the few in the world.

Carlos Gill embarks on two or three pilgrimages to Fatima per year, and every journey he makes is always for just one person. He claims that he doesn't really make a profit from his rent-a-pilgrim service, as the fees he charges only compensate his expenses along the way and the time-off he takes from his job. "As long as I'm not making a profit, I don't see a problem in this," he says.

CM lauds work of Suttur Mutt in health, education

Chamarajanagar, May 15 (SS)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah yesterday inaugurated the JSS Hospital at Chamarajanagar, established at a cost of Rs. 25 crore.

Speaking on the occasion, the Chief Minister said that the contribution of the Mutts in shoring up medical and educational facilities in the State was immense.

Pointing out that the State Government had embarked on setting up medical colleges in various districts of the State as the teaching hospitals affiliated to these colleges, Siddharamaiah said that this move would benefit the rural populace who can avail themselves of the facilities offered by the teaching hospitals.

Lauding the social work being undertaken by the Suttur Mutt in health and education, the CM said that the Mutt had engaged itself in propagating spiritual, cultural and social activities for decades. Regretting that medicos are not keen to work in rural areas after completing the course for some reasons, the Chief Minister called upon the medical students to serve in rural areas. The Chief Minister also inaugurated the golden jubilee celebrations of JSS Women's College in the town.

In his inaugural address, the CM said that more than 1 lakh students were getting educated in the Institutions run by the JSS throughout the State and even abroad and it was strengthening the Government's efforts in this direction.

Noting that education was vital for women for their social and economic emancipation, the CM said that the Government had launched various programmes to achieve it.

The 100-bedded hospital will have 18 specialty and 5 super-specialty facilities. This apart, the hospital has latest laboratories, CT Scan, X-ray, ultrasound, two Operation Theatres, Labour OTs and ICUs.

The hospital also has dialysis facilities, pharmacy, ambulance service and a canteen. People can also avail the health facilities under various health schemes and health insurance.

Writer rues lack of historical sense among Veerashaivas

Mysuru, May 15- Expressing regret that Veerashaivas were found lacking in historical knowledge when compared to Brahmin community, writer Maleyur Guruswamy said that any community cannot prosper until it develops historical sense.

He was speaking at Basaveshwara Jayanti programme organised by Veerashaiva Sajjana Sangha at Sri Kanti Mallana Kalyana Mantap in Mandi Mohalla here yesterday.

Stating that not many knew about Kanti Mallanna and Basavarajaiah (Proprietor of the city's Premier Studios — the first cinema studio in the State), Guruswamy reiterated that any community cannot intellectually grow unless it has a strong historical sense.

Noting that Brahmin community had developed administrative skills because of strong historical sense, Guruswamy said that Basavanna always strived for uniting all communities.

Stating that there was still confusion in the society on whether to call the community Veerashaivas or Lingayats, he said that the name board at Bengaluru's Akhila Bharath Veerashaiva Mahasabha is now read as Akhila Bharath Veerashaiva/Lingayat Mahasabha.

Writer Maleyur Guruswamy, who was felicitated during the Basaveshwara Jayanti programme organised by Veerashaiva Sajjana Sangha at Sri Kanti Mallana Kalyana Mantap in Mandi Mohalla yesterday, is seen with Mysuru Veerashaiva Sajjana Sangha President M.N. Jai Prakash and Gundlupet MLA Dr. Geetha Mahadevaprasad.

When questioned about this, he learnt that those who lived before Basavanna were called Veerashaivas and those who lived in post-Basavanna era were called as Lingayats, he said.

Gundlupet MLA Dr. Geetha Mahadevaprasad also spoke on the occasion. Tobacco Board Vice-President at Periyapatna P.V. Basavarajappa was felicitated on the occasion.

Meritorious students of seventh standard, SSLC & PUC and blood donors were presented a memento. Also, the winners of various contests were distributed prizes.

Mysuru Veerashaiva Sajjana Sangha President M.N. Jai Prakash, Vice-President S.R. Jagadish, Hon. Secretary M.T. Mallikarjuna, Joint Secretary C. Prabhudev, Treasurer M.C. Pranesh Kumar and others were present.

Later, a portrait of Basavaveshwara was taken out in a procession from Kanti Mallanna Kalyana Mantapa, passing through the main thoroughfares of the city. Earlier, dancer Tanmaya gave a performance.

VOICE OF THE READER

Unburden Second PUC students

Sir,

This refers to the article "Unburdening our PUC students" by Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem in Star of Mysore dated May 12. Before giving some solutions, I shall narrate my experience when my son was in 12th class, four years back.

At least once in two months, we had to attend the parent-teacher meeting where the teachers would distribute the report cards and update the student's performance level to the parents.

Prior to that there would be a speech by the Principal about the dos and don'ts to be followed by the parents and the students. In one such speech, the Principal said: "Children, you eat less now. If you eat more food, you will feel sleepy. These two years if you forego your food and sleep less and if you work hard, I assure that your life will be settled. Then you can eat well, up till eighty years..."

As a mother I wanted to respond immediately, but the circumstances did not allow me. My son, who was also present there had a mischievous smile on his face because he was sure that his mother was not going to be that cruel to him.

Unfortunately that was not the case with majority of the parents and children present there. One could not find a satisfied face in that crowd. If the child is doing well, the parents and the teachers want him/her to do even better. For those who are lagging behind, it is so miserable. There is no point of satiation. Not only the children, but also the parents are under immense pressure during this period. May be the parents who are in the 40-55 age group become hypertensive and diabetic due to this.

All say that twelfth standard is the turning point of life for each child in our country. Each person has his or her own destiny. Nobody, not even the parents, have the right to steal away the happiness of these young children.

There are places where coaching classes are conducted along with the prescribed syllabus. Students do go there. They are more or less like concentration camps and the parents are ready to pay a hefty fee and put their wards in such places.

By closely watching a few students and parents who are not crazy about marks and ranks, I feel they are the happiest people. I am sure these children are going to be successful and happy in their later life too. 16-17 years is the most energetic age in any person's life. We make them morons by putting them in these coaching centres where they are not allowed to think for themselves.

A solution for this should come mostly from the side of all parents. The problem will be solved if all parents think that they will be happy with their children, irrespective of their grades in school.

Correct UID, PAN data online

New Delhi, May 15- Errors in names and other details in the Permanent Account Number (PAN) can now be corrected online, with the Income Tax Department adding two hyperlinks on its e-filing website.

One of them is to make changes in the PAN data or for an Indian or foreigner to apply for it. The other hyperlink helps update Aadhaar data by logging on to the Aadhaar self-service update portal. The individual can then upload scanned documents as proof for data update.

Last week, the Department launched a facility for linking Aadhaar and PAN. A person needs to enter PAN and Aadhaar, along with his name as given in the Unique Identification Authority of India (UIDAI) data.

After verification from the UIDAI, the linking will be confirmed. In case of any minor mismatch in Aadhaar name, an Aadhaar OTP will be sent to the mobile number registered with the UIDAI.

Additionally, the Department has now launched the facility to correct errors in PAN or Aadhaar data.

Chamundi Hill Development: Half Truth by authorities

MGP to file case in Supreme Court

By Bhamy V. Shenoy
Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP)

The news item titled "Stalled Development atop Chamundi Hill begins: Green Tribunal gives green signal," published in Star of Mysore dated May 11, was shocking for the reasons given in this article. The SOM story clearly shows how the authorities concerned are clearly in the dark about the needed Environmental Clearance (EC), the role of National Green Tribunal (NGT) and failure to comply with the restrictions imposed by State Level Environment Impact Assessment Authority (SLEIAA). Though it may not be the intention of the local authorities to mislead the public, it creates a wrong impression with the public that everything is hunky dory on the legal front.

When MGP came to know that the government was hell bent on going ahead with the construction of multi-level parking, shops, shelter for pilgrims, etc., spending Rs. 78 crore (all of it from the offerings to Chamundeshwari), MGP filed a case against it in NGT Chennai. However, the NGT returned our file purely on some formalities (not enough number of copies, no English translation of two appendixes, no proper MGP stamp, etc).

It is not correct on the part of the authorities to claim that they have the clearance from NGT. In addition, NGT is not the authority to approve the construction, and it is only a body with legal jurisdiction to settle environmental disputes expeditiously.

When MGP met the then DC C. Shikha (meeting took place on June 23, 2016 because of several public protests), she asked the authorities to stop the construction until they complete an Environmental Management Plan (EMP). MGP was demanding a full-blown Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) as per the regulations but could not convince the authorities. When a project has total construction of more than 20,000 sq. mtrs, and expenditure of Rs. 78 crore it needs an EIA. EMP can be completed only after that.

In the event only a cursory EMP was completed in record time of about two months and submitted to State body. There was no public hearing or exchange of information. When EMP was completed, no copy was shared with MGP nor was it shared with the public or media as though it is a "confidential" report. Actually, it is not.

MGP tried to get a copy by approaching the DC's office and we were asked to contact PWD office. However, several efforts to get the report from PWD did not succeed. Usual bureaucratic response like the report is available on the internet and when we complained that we could not access it, they promised to give a hard copy. But MGP never got it.

Only when SOM published the story about the clearance and we searched for any latest development on the internet, we were able to get access to the so-called Environmental Clearance (EC) dated 26.9.2016.

Let me give two important clauses from that report to show how the requirements on PWD put by SLEIAA have not been met:

Construction Phase Clause - 3 clearly states that should there be any noise pollution, construction may have to be stopped. When we learnt about dynamite being used on the hill soon after the construction restarted, we complained to the authorities. There was no action taken by the authority.

Part B Clause 9 states that within 7 days of getting the EC, information on EC should be advertised in two leading papers. To the best of our knowledge there has been no such advertising of the information before the work was restarted.

SLEIAA has specifically asked for the justification for 600 car parking. This is an important requirement and to the best of our knowledge no scientific study has been conducted to assess why one needs car parking and that too for 600 cars when during the busy period of ashada masa it is possible for authorities to handle the traffic without allowing any private cars to ply. On other days do we need parking facilities for 600 cars? In fact, a proper study would have showed that the multi-level parking will not be used just like the guest house today is not in use. It is surprising that SLEIAA did not ask to prove the need for 116 shops either. Do visitors come to Chamundi to shop? Is there any reason to construct a 'shopping mall' on the market?

What is surprising is that the SLEIAA seems to be totally oblivious of the fragile ecological balance on the hill and how it may affect flora and fauna. There are several rare species of birds, reptiles, medicinal plants and EC which has so many clauses in its EC has no mention of this issue at all. This clearly shows how the State authorities have only done a cursory EMP at best to get an EC from SLEIAA.

It is for the above reasons, MGP is now filing the case in the Supreme Court. Another reason for this clarification is that even now it is not too late to stop the work atop Chamundi Hill if Mysureans get involved and put pressure on our CM. We need to stop the work before more money is spent.

Let us learn from the example of Bengaluru where they prevented construction of overhead steel bridge by participating in the protest in large numbers. Future generation will certainly blame us if we do not succeed in preventing the vandalisation of Chamundi Hill, the most important ecological heritage of Mysuru.

MGP to join hands for Green Mysuru Project

Mysuru, May 15 (SPN&NNN)- The Environment Committee of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) at its monthly meeting, in Yadavagiri, here yesterday, decided to focus on greening of Mysuru in association with other organisations.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, MGP Secretary Dr. M. Mohandas Shenoy, said that the main objective at the meeting was to take up the issue of greening of Mysuru by planting one lakh trees in the coming days, with active participation of youth and concerned citizens along with voluntary organisations.

To start this project, which will be in two phases, this is the ideal time as the monsoon is about to set in. "We will be speaking to institutions like University of Mysore, JSS, Railways and with their permission plant trees in their premises. For instance as the first stage of the project we will plant about 100 trees in Kukkarahalli Lake premises," he said.

In the second stage which is the most important stage, as the trees need to be nurtured after the planting is done, the volunteers and a few workers will be engaged to protect the trees. A lot of work is involved here for at least two to three years to see the results. "One of the main reasons why we have chosen institutions is to see that there is not much expenditure involved as they themselves will take interest in protecting the greenery. Otherwise we have to spend money on tree guards and other requirements," said Dr. M.M. Shenoy.

A section of citizens and MGP members at the monthly public meeting held at MGP Office in Yadavagiri last evening.

Some of the species that will be planted include rosewood, honne (Indian laurel wood), neem, hippe (Madhuka), Indian fig and wild mango. The Forest Department has come forward to supply the saplings and if there is a shortage then MGP will seek donations from the people to purchase it from other nurseries, he added.

In a power-point presentation, Ashvini Ranjan, Executive Committee member, MGP, said that in the guise of development of the city and road widening, several trees were being axed. Hence, if the city has to regain its past glory as the garden city, citizens' participation is very vital.

Human greed is overtaking environmental concerns and the people are not coming forward to stop this degradation. He supported his claim by showing slides of axing of trees in various places.

The MGP had embarked on a similar project a couple of years back but on a much smaller scale. An awareness programme will be launched to educate the people of the importance of 'Green Mysuru,' with the help of Rotary, Koti Vriksha Prathisthana and others.

About 10 to 12 youths participated in the meeting and assured their support as volunteers. Others present in the meeting included MGP President Shivananda Sahukar, Working President Shobhana, Secretary Venkatesh, Koti Vriksha Pratishtana President Vinayak Bhat, K.S. Narasimhamurthy and environmentalist Bhanu Mohan.

One killed, two injured as lorry rams into Tata Ace and tipper

Mysuru, May 15 (SBD&KS)- A lorry driver was killed on the spot, while two others sustained injuries when the lorry driver lost control of the vehicle and rammed into a Tata Ace and tipper vehicle on the Ring Road near Bharath Cancer Hospital, here yesterday evening.

While the deceased lorry driver has been identified as Naveen Kumar (30), a resident of Gowdalli, Srirangapatna taluk in Mandya district, the injured persons who were travelling in the Tata Ace vehicle have been identified as Ravi and Nagasundara.

Naveen, who was transporting a road roller in the lorry, was driving from Hinkal Signal Junction towards Bharath Cancer Hospital at high speed. He lost control of the vehicle near Rane Madras factory and rammed the vehicle into a Tata Ace and tipper vehicle, killing Naveen on the spot and the lorry again rammed into an electric pole before coming to a halt.

V.V. Puram Traffic Inspector Vivekananda and staff, who rushed to the spot, shifted the injured to a hospital and the body of Naveen to MMC&RI mortuary.

Meanwhile, V.V. Puram Traffic Inspector Vivekananda said that it is yet to be ascertained whether Naveen Kumar was a driver or cleaner and how many people were in the lorry, which would be known only after the owner of the lorry arrives.

V.V. Puram Traffic Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Four injured in Nano-Sumo collision

Mysuru, May 15 (PM&KS)- Four persons travelling in a Tata Nano cab were injured when a speeding Tata Sumo vehicle rammed into it while the car was waiting at the signal at St. Joseph's Circle here yesterday afternoon.

Those injured have been identified as Shivashankar, Kavitha, Arpitha and Mahesh of Hinkal and admitted to K.R. Hospital here.

The Nano cab (KA 09 C 0850) was waiting at the signal for the light to turn green when a speeding Tata Sumo (KA 19 D 7605) coming from Hunsur side rammed into the Nano car, resulting in the Nano ramming into a Maruthi Swift car in front, damaging both the vehicles. The driver of the Tata Sumo, fled from the spot soon after the mishap leaving the vehicle behind.

V.V. Puram Traffic Police have registered a case in this regard.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Good relationship

There are moments of a relationship nothing seems to go well. May be it's time for a change not in relationship but with the Feng Shui of your space to reunite the occupants.

The place of dwelling swell with different types of energies which can attract prosperity, health and money but the most important would be good health and harmony.

Many have a wonderful life outside their home bubbling with enthusiasm and positivity but seem to be drained; spirits dampened, highly-charged up and irritated waiting for a reason to fight and argue the minute they are back in their home.

Interior design is something much more than aesthetics. It is balancing the natural forces of our environment to create harmony and rejuvenate relationships going down the hill.

An imbalanced house often translates as an imbalance in the male or female energy of the occupants and their relationship. Feng Shui techniques seek to restore balance by manipulating the Chi flow rather like an acupuncturist.

The shape of a property and the design of the building could be one of the major reasons for disharmony amongst occupants. Look for properties that appear to be balanced both on the right and left side.

A semi-detached houses with dramatic slope to one side, is considered as a bad Feng Shui as this is said to affect the confidence and power of the male occupant. The left is the Dragon which is male and the right is the Tiger which is perceived as Female from the Feng Shui perspective.

Hence an imbalance on the elevation, shape and design of a building can cause conflict to the male and female occupants.

Placing of some specific symbols and re-doing the bedroom can help to a large extent to rejuvenate a bad relationship. A bedroom cramped and having too much clutter is one of the main negative energy sources. Create a serene and blissful atmosphere by adapting décor which is slightly "Yin" that is a little dark, quiet and cool. This ensures a sanctuary for good rest, love, relationship, mutual respect and a feeling of security. Low lighting with drapes having solid patterns and muted colours can further accentuate the feel of the space.

• Placing a Rose Quartz pig near bedside can help. Pig symbolises honesty and determination to fix relationships. A Combination of Rose Quartz and Pig also has power to increase your love life, and bring good fortune when it is placed in your love area.

• To activate love, romance luck display a faced Crystal ball as in Feng Shui it represents earth element which can strengthen relationships when placed at southwest of bedroom.

• Place a Combination of Chinese Dragon and Phoenix. Together it symbolises happy marriage, happy couple, relationship, living happily forever couple.

• Rose quartz is a love stone. Hence placing a pair of rose quarts birds is one of the most powerful Feng Shui symbols to attract love, romance, happy relationship & marriage life.

Rajinikanth meets his fans after a gap of 9 years

Rajinikanth to meet his fans in different batches till May 19. Says he won't join politics or support any political party

Chennai, May 15- Superstar Rajinikanth met his fans after a gap of nine years at Raghavendra Mandapam here this morning. It is learnt that Rajinikanth will meet his fans between May 15 and May 19 in Chennai in different batches. Invitations have been sent to respective fan clubs to attend the various sessions allotted to them.

Speaking on the occasion, Rajinikanth said, "I am not bothered by criticism. Today I need your support. Kochadaiyan and Lingaa did not do well but Kabali and Enthiran did. A film will work only if it has good content."

Reacting to rumours about him entering politics, the Superstar said that his accidental brush with politics happened 20-years-ago and since then many had been using his name for political gain. "People have been speculating for years about me joining politics. But I had made it clear back then only. I have never made any such announcement since then about joining politics. Nobody has my backing and I don't support anyone. I am not joining any political party."

"Some people have wanted to become MLAs and politicians and have been using me to make money. God decides what we have to do in life. Right now, he wants me to be an actor and I'm fulfilling my responsibility. If God wills it, I will enter politics tomorrow," he said, assuring his fans that, "If I enter politics, I will be very truthful and will not work with people who are in this to make money."

The fans have often asked their 'Thalaivar' (leader) to take the political plunge, even as he has been wooed by many political parties on account of his mass appeal.

Rajinikanth also made the most of the opportunity to send out social messages to his fans. The Star asked his fans not to smoke or consume alcohol stating that he was well aware of its affect on human health.

The 'Superstar' was slated to hold a similar meeting last month, but had postponed it on a request made by them for individual photographs for which more number of group interactions was required. The last such meeting with fans was in 2009, post his 'Sivaji' success.

Rajinikanth will next be seen in 2.0, which is a sequel to the 2010 Tamil film Enthiran. The film also stars Akshay Kumar and it is the first time that Akshay and Rajini will share the screen space. 2.0 was suppose to hit the theatres this year on Diwali, but then the makers shifted it to next year citing better incorporation of visual effects.

Veteran filmmaker S.P. Mathuraman accompanied Ranjinikanth in today's event.

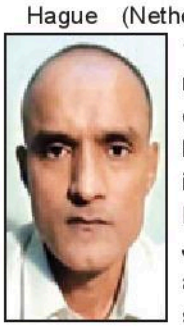
Kulbhushan Jadhav Case

International Court of Justice begins hearing



Hague (Netherlands), May 15- The International Court of Justice (ICJ) began hearing in case of Kulbhushan Jadhav, the alleged Indian spy sentenced to death by a Pakistani Military Court, this afternoon. Legal team led by former Solicitor General Harish Salve is representing the Indian Government.

India team, which is arguing first, is expected to focus on the violations of the Vienna convention by Pakistan on the issue of denying consular access to Jadhav and on the lack of transparency in the Pakistani Military Court, which India said was 'illegal.' This will be followed by arguments from the Pakistan team led by Attorney General Ashtar Ausaf.

India moved the ICJ last week to save Jadhav after Pakistan denied consular access despite 16 requests. Pakistan has said the Indian move to approach ICJ was an attempt to divert attention from "state-sponsored terrorism in Pakistan" and that it was analysing the ICJ's authority in the matter.

It will be after 18 years that an India-Pakistan dispute will play out in the world court. India has stayed away from the ICJ and it is only the second time after 1971 that New Delhi has sought the intervention of the judicial arm of the United Nations against Pakistan.

Talk on 'Bamboo: Construction Material of the Future' held

Mysuru, May 15- The Institution of Engineers-India (IEI), Mysore Local Centre, had organised a technical talk on 'Bamboo: Construction Material of the Future' at S.P. Bhat Hall in the Institution premises on JLB Road in city recently. C. Balachandran, Convenor, Bamboo Dairies, Mysuru, was the guest speaker.

With a view to harness the potential of bamboo crop, Ministry of Agriculture - Horticulture division, Government of India, is implementing Central-Sponsored Scheme called 'National Bamboo Mission.'

The Mission envisages promoting holistic growth of bamboo sector by adopting area-based regionally differentiated strategy and to increase the area under bamboo cultivation and marketing. Under the mission, steps have been taken to increase the availability of quality planting material by supporting the setting up of new nurseries and strengthening of existing area to address towards integration.

The Mission is taking steps to strengthen marketing of bamboo products, especially those of handicraft items.

The talk was aimed at creating a sense of responsibility among Engineers and public to spread awareness on sustainable low cost building construction using bamboo.

He also explained success story of Anganwadi building construction using locally available bamboo for tribal communities in Periyapatana and H.D. Kote taluks.

He said, all the centres were constructed by adopting green building concept using locally available materials such as mud and bamboo. These Anganwadis are being constructed exclusively for tribal children who are living deep inside the forest. "Since Forest Department does not allow concrete construction inside forest area, bamboo technology is a very good replacement," he added.

After the presentation, the speaker was felicitated.

IEI Mysuru Chairman M. Chinnaswamy, Hon. Secreatary B.V. Ravindranath and Karnataka Renewable Energy Development Limited (KREDL) Project Engineer and programme coordinator D.K. Dinesh Kumar were present.

Will this road in Agrahara see a facelift?

This is the state of Basaveshwara Road 2nd Cross near Agrahara in city since the past four years. With the road being not asphalted and with many overflowing manholes, residents are forced to inhale foul smell emanating from the overflowing manholes. Authorities concerned are urged to take steps to asphalt this road and also to clear the clogged manholes at the earliest for the benefit of the residents.

MCC clarifies

Mysuru, May 15- Following publication of various photo news items in SOM WhatsApp Us column highlighting civic issues at several localities in city, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has taken action and issued clarification through press release:

Clear garbage on Anikethana Road in Kuvempunagar

This picture was published on May 9 and the MCC has clarified that the garbage dumped on 7th North Cross on Anikethana Road has been cleared (pic. below).

Srirampura residents still waiting for motorable roads

Mysuru, May 15 (SP)- With most parts of the city reeling under water crisis, there seems to be a double whammy for Srirampura second stage residents as they have to grapple with poor condition of roads.

The road near Amrutha Bakery in Srirampura second stage was dug up by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) two months ago for construction of a drainage. But as the works are yet to be completed, the neighbouring residents are left to face a lot of hardship. Recently, a woman broke her hand when she fell into the pit dug by the MCC, while attempting to cross it to reach the other side of the road.

Besides, there are several instances of pedestrians and motorists sustaining injuries while making their own way to cross the road. The problem is more serious during the night, as the road is poorly lit. Although the neighbouring residents have complained to the Corporator of Ward 14, under which the area comes, the authorities have been apathetic to the plight of the residents.

Various geographical hurdles to the drainage have been a major hindrance to the completion of works and the telecom cables, water pipeline and electric wires passing between has further compounded the problem. The authorities express their helplessness saying there were many hurdles that need to be cleared for the completion of works. Amidst the works getting delayed, a drinking water pipeline busted a couple of days ago, with precious water going waste.

The Srirampura second stage main road extends from Vivekanandanagar Circle to H.D. Kote Ring Road and motorists using this stretch of the road are taking alternative routes to reach their destination. While some KSRTC buses travel on the parallel road, other buses attached to Kuvempunagar depot, pass through BEML Nagar, Devayyanahundi and Shiva Temple, Aravindanagar, to reach the depot.

As concrete works on the dug up stretch of the road is yet to be taken up, daily joggers, morning walkers, children, students and people of all ages are finding it difficult to reach the park along the main road. They have to cross heaps of dug up mud, jelly stones and other construction materials to reach the park. There are many incidents of people getting injured after losing their balance and falling or slipping.

The Ward Corporator Jagadish says that the road repair works on the stretch of the road from Vivekanandanagar to BEML has been taken up at an estimated cost of Rs. 2 crore, with a 6-month deadline for executing the works. However, the works have been expedited and 'Caution' sign boards have been erected on both sides of the road which serves as a warning to pedestrians and motorists. KSRTC buses ply on the parallel road as a safety measure.

Despite the 'Caution' boards, some motorists and pedestrians choose this road for travel and there were incidents of many pedestrian and motorists, especially two-wheeler riders, injuring themselves after skidding, according to Corporator Jagadish.

Citizens are of the opinion that the city slipped to fifth in ranking in Cleanest City, as there are many such main roads in the city which poses a threat to both pedestrians and motorists alike.

Sujatha, a resident of Srirampura second stage, says that repair works are going on at a slow pace. The condition of the road has become worst over the years and the pit dug up by the MCC for drainage construction has only worsened the situation.

Recently, a woman broke her arms after slipping while crossing the dug up section of the road. Even as the residents are facing a lot of hardship, the authorities are doling out their own reasons for the delay in the completion of works, she said and urged the authorities to wake up from deep slumber and come to the rescue of the residents.

Gangadhar, an auto driver, says that there was an auto stand near the Bakery. But the drainage works taken up in the middle of the road has caused a lot of hardship to all road users. As pedestrians are avoiding this road, the demand for autos at the stand has dropped drastically, causing losses to auto drivers, he said.

Vijesh, of Amrutha Bakery, says that there was a significant drop in the number of customers visiting the bakery since the road was dug up a couple of months ago. The in-completion of works on this ever-busy road, has caused great inconvenience to neighbouring residents and the public in general. As such, the authorities concerned should take immediate steps to expedite the works and put an end to the woes of the residents, he says.

I will adopt Boudha Deekshe: Prasad

State BJP Vice-President V. Sreenivasa Prasad is seen addressing at a function organised by Mahabodi Maitri Mandala at Mahabodi Carla Students Home in Saraswathipuram here recently.

Mysuru, May 15 (YDS&DM)- Declaring that he will adopt 'Boudha Deekshe' in order to spread Buddha and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's thoughts, former Minister and State BJP Vice-President V. Sreenivasa Prasad said that he would do his best for creating awareness among the oppressed classes on the preaching of great Saints.

He was speaking at the public function organised by Mahabodi Maitri Mandala at Mahabodi Carla Students Home in Saraswathipuram here recently.

Maintaining that Buddhism formed the basis for a civil society, Prasad opined that India would have become the world's biggest Buddhist nation had it adopted Buddha's thoughts.

Noting that most of the Asian countries have been following Buddha's principles and thoughts, Prasad regretted that our younger generation had failed in advocating Buddha's preaching.

Stating that as Revenue Minister earlier, he had allotted 44 acre land at Himmavu to establish Ambedkar Centre and Buddha Institution, he expressed disappointment over the Government not pursuing his initiative.

Bhante Bodidatta, Secretary of the proposed Nalanda Buddhist University at Chamarajanagar, too spoke on the occasion. SJCE faculty Prof. A. Thyagaraj Murthy was also present.

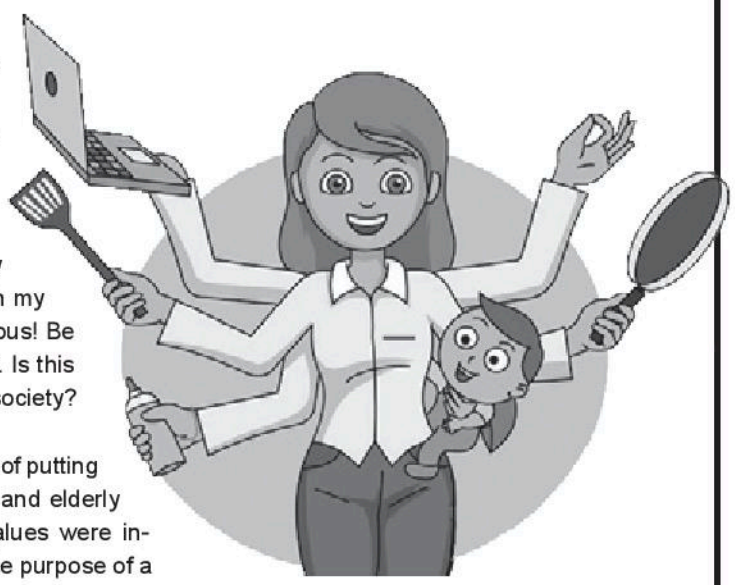
MOTHER'S DAY - MAY 14

Four things mothers need to change about themselves

By Sujata Rajpal



Secure your own mask first before helping others. Two decades ago, when for the first time I heard this safety instruction live in the airplane, I was a newly married girl travelling to Alps with my brand new husband. How ridiculous! Be selfish. Think about yourself first. Is this what they want to convey to the society? I elbowed my better half.

All my life, I was fed on the diet of putting others before self. Hindi movies and elderly aunties made sure that such values were instilled and ingrained fully. The sole purpose of a woman's life is to serve others. Give, give, give until your body is squeezed of all energy. The more you give, the more you get, that's what the motto of your life is. Only then, your life is worth it and not before. Right? Wrong. Motherhood is a choice and not a sacrifice — echoes one of the latest ads.

Like everything else in life, motherhood too is evolving. A mother is someone who has been assigned by God with the job to take care of the physical and emotional needs of her children but she is no longer contented just being a mother and a wife. She wants more from life. Give me more, is the latest buzz word. Juggling, hustling, multi-tasking is not an issue, she is tuned for that.

You don't need to wear the badge of sacrifice on your sleeve like a solitaire on your finger. Women love to be sacrificing queens. Sacrificing in small and big ways for children gives them a strange sense of pleasure, a contentment that their lives have been worth it. Alas! Sacrificing queen leads to a checkmate only in the game of chess. In real life, it leads to distress and disaster. Putting yourself before others sometimes is not selfish, it is taking care of yourself.

A mother is an individual first and a mother later. She needs to first take care of her own health and happiness to be at the service of her children. Come to think of it, how will a tired and exhausted mother look after her children? Eating before your kids eat doesn't certify you as a bad mother. You can still be an ideal mother even if you decide to eat before them. And well-being is not only restricted to physical needs but also emotional. Recharge, do not break down.

Mothers' distress levels are directly proportional to kids' mental health. No one wants a grumpy mom? If you are emotionally burnt-out then there is no way you can sit and listen to the crises in your children's lives. Can a hungry man fill others' stomach? It is a survival need like the oxygen mask in the times of low pressure.

Mothers too can have likes and dislikes. Take a mother to a restaurant and ask her what will she like to eat? The typical answer will be 'I will eat whatever everyone is eating.' Most women even in today's progressive world have never thought about their own desires. You don't need to give up your dreams for the sake of your children. Make yourself a priority.

Mothers are so busy doing it all that they forget the most important person in their lives — THEMSELVES. Investing time, money and energy in your children is important but in the process, do not forget that time and resources spent on the gratification of your own desires is not a waste. Social work, get-togethers, book clubs, meeting friends, a full time or part time job, gym, yoga, a hobby class, reading, even just 'Me Time' are all justified.

Adjust. Accommodate. Adapt. These words are for everyone in the family and not only for the mother. You are not born to be at the beck and call of your family all the time. The sky is not going to fall down if you could not cook a three-course meal one day because you did not feel like it. You need not die of guilt if once in a while you ask your husband, a neighbour or a relative to baby sit your child while you go for a movie with a friend.

In today's times, it is even more important to redefine motherhood because very soon, the sooner than you can imagine, your children will fly the nest. When they leave the nest, it affects the mother the most, as they had always been the nucleus of her very being.

Therefore, if you have never thought about yourself as a separate entity, it is bound to create a vacuum in your life leaving you wounded and empty. Mothers, do take care of yourself — your health as well as your happiness. Only a healthy and happy mother can enrich the life of her children. If Mommy is happy, the entire house is happy as the old adage goes. Happy Mother's Day!

Thomas Woodrow Wilson, the 28th President of the United States, on May 9, 1914, signed a proclamation following untiring efforts by Anna Marie Jarvis. The United States, then declared the second Sunday of May a national holiday "as a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country." Anna Marie Jarvis, seen as founder of Mother's Day, was the daughter of Ann Maria Reeves Jarvis, a social activist who organised events called Mothers' Day Work Clubs to reduce infant mortality. At the events doctors were invited to hold discussions with mothers on how to keep their children healthy and educate them with latest practices of hygiene and sanitation.

Mother traces 'dead' daughter-in-law, helps son walk free

The Nirbhaya case where the innocent girl in the national capital was raped and perpetrators of the heinous crime sentenced to death, caught the attention of the whole country. However, here is a story that has surfaced of a mother using all her intelligence to trap her diabolical daughter-in-law, thus enabling her innocent son to be released from jail that warms the heart of anyone who reads it. Read on...

Patna: On Mother's Day, it was a gift from a mother to her son who has been incarcerated on the charge of 'killing' his newly-wed wife.

The mother, convinced that her son was innocent, traced his son's 'dead wife' to Jabalpur in Madhya Pradesh, informed the Police, gave substantial evidence of her jailed son's innocence, and ensured the arrest of her daughter-in-law along with her paramour.

Seems to be a straight lift from a Bollywood flick, but this real-life crime story from Muzaffarpur has left many astounded.

Manoj Kumar, a resident of Muzaffarpur, was arrested by the Police in Apr. 2015, barely a year after he married one Rinki Kumari, daughter of a defence personnel.

Reason: Rinki had disappeared 11 months after her wedding and remained untraced for days. Her father Chandreshwar Prasad lodged a case of dowry death.

The girl's family even recognised a body, found in the neighbourhood, as that of Rinki. They said they recognised the body from her clothes. The cremation followed. After an FIR was lodged in which Manoj and his parents were charged with killing Rinki for dowry, the Police arrested the accused.

"Manoj and his parents were booked under Sections 304 B (dowry death) and 201 (tampering with evidence) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC)," sources said.

Later on getting bail, Manoj's mother Lalita Devi started looking for her 'dead' daughter-in-law. In the process, she went to Madhya Pradesh, where Rinki's father was posted. After a long search, she eventually traced her 'dead' daughter-in-law, who was staying in Jabalpur with her paramour.

She returned to Bihar to inform the cops that her son, who was behind bars for killing his wife, was actually innocent. "I told the Saraiya (in Muzaffarpur) Station House Officer (SHO) how my 'dead bahu' was alive and kicking. But the cop asked for more evidence. Then I met a probationary IPS officer Santosh Mishra who sent a team to Jabalpur. Rinki and her paramour Mayur Malik were arrested from there."

Police sources said both of them were brought to Bihar and produced before the Sub-Divisional Judicial Magistrate on May 12.

Rinki confessed that she was in love with Malik even before her marriage and her wedding with Manoj was against her wish. Rinki and Malik have a newborn baby.

Manoj, languishing in jail, can now expect to walk free.

WORD OF THE DAY

Supposititious

Pronunciation: suh-pah-zuh-TISH-us

Meaning: Fraudulently substituted, spurious; (of a child) falsely presented as a genuine heir, illegitimate; imaginary; of the nature of or based on a supposition: hypothetical.

Origin: The Latin verb supponere, meaning "substitute," has several legitimate heirs in English, including supposititicus (which dates from the early 17th century) and supposition (a 15th-century addition). The "fraudulent" and "illegitimate" meanings of supposititicus trace back to supponere in a fairly direct route, whereas the "imaginary" and "hypothetical" meanings were influenced by the meanings of supposition. In legal contexts, supposititicus is primarily used in its earlier senses, as in "a supposititicus (fraudulent) will" or "the child was supposititicus (illegitimate)." When something hypothetical is being considered, the synonymous adjective suppositious is often preferred over supposititicus.

THE ODD WORD

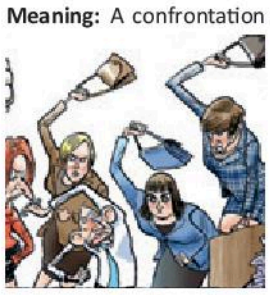
Onychocryptosis

Internally growing toenail.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Handbags at ten paces

Meaning: A confrontation which is histrionic but which doesn't involve physical violence. Such confrontations are also called handbag situations.



Origin: The handbags at ten paces and handbags at dawn versions began to be used in the 1980s to describe confrontations between players in football matches. Professional footballers know they will be sent off if they hit another player, so emotion has to be expressed via posturing, facial grimacing and verbal abuse. The implication carried by the phrases was that, although a great deal of preamble to violence was shown, the actual confrontations were in the nature of 'I'll scratch you eyes out' cat-fights. These were typified by the many high-profile matches between Manchester United and Arsenal in the years around the turn of the millennium. These matches were usually highly charged as they often had a decisive effect on the outcome of the Premiership championship. This, coupled with the fact that many of the players had reputations for violent play but didn't want to risk getting sent off, led to several handbags at ten paces incidents. The football manager and later commentator, Ron Atkinson, was fond of using this phrase, often shortened just to handbags. He invented several somewhat surreal footballing terms, so he may well have coined this too, although I can't find any record confirming that.
